The Certified Master Coach Practitioner™ Course is designed and personalized for you.

- The Certified Master Coach Practitioner™ Course is offered online through a webinar format
- Each class is hosted live, to address and answer your unique questions
- Each week, the course is offered twice on different days/times to suit your schedule

Master Coach Course graduates say that...

Learning how to create different products, which are then used as prospecting exercises and tools to generate new clients and additional revenue, is what they most valued and enjoyed.

This business program is all about business development. It pinpoints what you can achieve and the habits you can create on a weekly, monthly or even daily basis to generate additional revenue streams beyond coaching itself.

Should you take Rod Macdonald's Certified Master Coach Practitioner™ Course?

"Only if you desire a complete marketing strategy to propel your coaching business to the next level. What I learned in the first three weeks was worth the tuition and it would have saved me months and months of struggling. [The Instructor] is not only an excellent instructor, he actually lives what he teaches. He tells you what works because he is doing what works; it is evident in both his passion and his desire to help you become a better and more successful coach. Should you take the CMCP course? My answer is an unequivocal, resounding Yes!"

"The Certified Master Coach Practitioner™ Course is the course that took my business to a professional level. It challenged me to take the next steps in developing my coaching practice as well as creating a Business Development Plan to identify my business goals and a course of action to achieve those goals. More importantly, the support was always there when I needed it. This course was well worth the investment."

"With the Master Coach Practitioner's™ Course it "all" comes together.

Although I considered myself quite experienced when it comes to managing a business, the course helped me to fine-tune my skills, remove some blind spots and get over hurdles that before prevented me from getting maximum results. The course is hands-on with a no-nonsense approach. If you want to do better than mediocre or less, I recommend enrolling in this course as soon as you can and build your coaching business to the level you desire."

Should you take Rod Macdonald's Certified Master Coach Practitioner™ Course?

Taking the Master Certification Course was one of the best things I did for my business. I now proudly display the certification on my website and this credential has opened several doors for me. It is a way to say to the world "I took my profession seriously". I learned so much from the Master program and highly recommend it to people who are serious about advancing their skills.

It taught me new aspects on how to conduct my Coaching business, making it so much easier to write my business plan. [The Instructor] made taking the course so enjoyable and fun. His guidance and commitment to his students far exceeded my expectations!
